2. THE CAPACITY BUILDING DIVISION AND THE POOLED RESOURCES UNIT

The Capacity Building Division (CBD) is a matrix structure supporting the achievement of Frontex operational goals by providing the necessary capabilities. A matrix approach ensures that the focus is on services thus enabling fluid internal cooperation and collaboration.

CBD develops, delivers and deploys capabilities in support of the Frontex timely, effective, adequate and affordable response to threats, challenges and hazards at the external borders. It systematically identifies shortfalls and plans, programmes, budgets and implements activities across the full scope of capabilities in a financially and qualitatively sound manner.

The Division pools capabilities, including technical equipment and personnel, from Member States and Schengen Associated Countries. The Division manages the pools and makes them available for deployment to Frontex operational activities. It further provides the pools with its own capabilities, acquiring and managing equipment and service contracts throughout the lifecycle, while ensuring the necessary logistics support to deploy and sustain them in operational areas. The Division takes all reasonable practicable duty-of-care responsibilities in order to protect Frontex personnel deployed in all operational activities from harm, injury or occupational diseases.

In support of making informed decisions the Division scans and assesses the latest developments in science and technology, performs market research, harmonises requirements, promotes interoperability and fosters innovation.

It represents excellence in border guard education and training, promoting high professional and ethical standards that are applied for adequately preparing the personnel for their deployment in Frontex operational activities.

CBD also provides technical support to the European Commission and assists third countries in their capacity building efforts in close cooperation with the IEC Division.

The Capacity Building Division consists of the following Units: (i) Pooled Resources, (ii) Research and Innovation, and (iii) Training. It is assisted by a Capability Programming Office.

The Pooled Resources Unit (PRU) is functioning as an acquisition and logistics centre. It is responsible for acquisition and management of the technical equipment and services on the basis of objectives identified in a Capability Development Plan (CDP). - Developing the Agency's ability to acquire, lease, manage and deploy own technical equipment and services in line with the CDP by strengthening inherent processes in all phases of acquisition, through-life management and logistics as well as developing new models for acquisition and leasing;
- Providing own technical equipment and services to the capability pools through the effective management of requirements, timely execution of acquisition plans and effective management and successful delivery of acquisition projects, supplying the Agency's own fleet of equipment;
- Ensuring the availability of own technical equipment and services and managing them throughout their lifecycles;

- Providing own technical equipment and services from the operational pools to operational activities by ensuring that the fleet of own equipment and portfolio of services can be deployed and sustained in operational areas through lean and robust logistics management.
